

"Job's Character" Job 1:10.

Jpb 1:1;

There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job; and that man was perfect and upright, and one that feared God, and eschewed evil.

1-This book was, no doubt, first committed to writing by Moses. and is regarded by many as the oldest in the world.

2-Its object is to set before us the trial of an upright man.

1-Job himself is quite unconscious of the fact that he is being used by Jehovah as an object-lesson to all generations.

2-He knows nothing at all about the conference that has taken place concerning him, recorded in verses 7 and 12.

3-The days of Job were probably about the time of Abraham.

1-In the book there is no mention of Israel.

2-There is no mention of the Tabernacle, the Temple, of the Law.

4-Job was perfect and upright, one that feared God, and eschewed evil.

5-Job was a rich man. 7000 sheep, 3000 camels, 500 yoke of oxen.

1-Good men are not always rich; but God had surely put a premium on the goodness and faithfulness of Job, by allowing him to become the wealthiest man in the country.

6-Job was wise:

1-Job rose up early in the morning and offered burnt-offerings for all of his family, for he said, it may be that my sons have sinned and cursed God in their hearts.

1-His thoughtfulness for his children.

7-Job was a marked man:

1-He was a marked man for the favor of God.

2-A marked man for the envy and hatred of Satan.

There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job; and that man was perfect and upright, and one that feared God, and eschewed evil.

His name was Job, and he was upright and perfect in his ways, and he feared God, and eschewed evil.

And he had seven sons, and three daughters. The name of the first was Jemima, and the name of the second was Keziah, and the name of the third was Kerenhappuch.

And his wife's name was Zophar the Naathathite, and she said unto him, Blessed art thou, because thou hast not despised God's commandments.

And he said, I have despised God's commandments, and have not kept his law, but have despised his word, and have despised his voice, and have despised his commandments, and have despised his law.

And he said, I have despised God's commandments, and have not kept his law, but have despised his word, and have despised his voice, and have despised his commandments, and have despised his law.

And he said, I have despised God's commandments, and have not kept his law, but have despised his word, and have despised his voice, and have despised his commandments, and have despised his law.

And he said, I have despised God's commandments, and have not kept his law, but have despised his word, and have despised his voice, and have despised his commandments, and have despised his law.

And he said, I have despised God's commandments, and have not kept his law, but have despised his word, and have despised his voice, and have despised his commandments, and have despised his law.

And he said, I have despised God's commandments, and have not kept his law, but have despised his word, and have despised his voice, and have despised his commandments, and have despised his law.
