

1. So it comes to pass that both the Lord and the poor...the Lord in heaven and the suffering and needy on earth...make their appeal to our charity for such help as we may be able to render. In responding to this double appeal let us measure our gifts:

1. By the claims of the Lord laid upon us.
2. By the necessities of our neighbors.
3. By the measure of our sympathy with Him and them.

"The barrel of meal and the Cruse of oil"

1. 1 Kings 17:8-16.

1. The widow preparing the last meal for her son...then to die of starvation.
2. The business man...bank failures and business crises...his brook dries up.
3. Another looks with pride upon a child...his pleasure and joy flow from that child...disease settles upon it and takes it away.
4. These things try our faith.
 1. By the gradual failure of that on which life depends...
 2. by the uncertainty of the future.
