

Lesson 20: The Seven Bowls of Wrath

A society abandoned to idolatry and its consequent morals, as was the Roman empire of John's day, is spiritually dead. In such a society, morals decline to the lowest level; the family collapses, schools breed anarchy and rebellion, business ethics are forgotten, entertainment becomes base and sordid, and printing presses exude smut and filth, until the whole is strangled in its own death blood and suffocated by its own stench. (Homer Hailey)

First Bowl
Foul & Evil Sores

Second Bowl
Sea to Blood

Third Bowl
Rivers to Blood

Fourth Bowl
Scorching Sun

Seventh Bowl
It is Done!

Sixth Bowl
Invasion

Fifth Bowl
Darkness